Financial Guidelines - please read carefully

- You can't raise money for another organization as a Girl Scout. Examples of raising money for other organizations are holding a bake sale and telling people that you are giving the proceeds to a homeless shelter; you can't ask for pledges for a walk-a-thon and or hold a benefit dance to raise money for someone's operation.
- What you can do: You and your troop may elect to use troop funds to support a girl's Silver Award Project. All troop members must agree to this decision.
